

“Transparencies” Book Presentation at Italian Cultural Institute of NY

Maria Borio, one of Italy’s most promising young poets, in conversation about her collection of poems

La Voce di New York

Maria Borio
Transparencies

Translated from Italian by

Danielle Pieratti

The visceral and surreal English-language debut of one of Italy's most promising young poets.

Book Presentation | October 5, 2022 6PM

Italian Cultural Institute

686 Park Avenue, NY

Maria Borio is the author of two collections of poetry: Trasparenza (Interlinea, 2019) and L'altro limite (LietoColle, 2017). A selection of her works entitled Vite unite was included in Quaderno italiano di poesia contemporanea XII (Marcos y Marcos, 2015). Read more

Danielle Pieratti's poems and translations have appeared in Boston Review, Mid-American Review, Words Without Borders, and elsewhere. Her first book, Fugitives (Lost Horse Press, 2016), was selected by Kim Addonizio for the 2015 Idaho Prize and won the 2017 Connecticut Book Award for poetry. Read more

RSVP HERE

This event is part of the XXII Week of Italian Language in the World, a yearly worldwide celebration of the Italian language and creativity. The XXII edition will have Italian and young people as its theme.